WASHINGTON.

Southern Plans for the Distribution of the Surplus in the Treasury.

Condition of the Navy-Cardozo's Pursuit by Reuben Regarding Tariff Legislation.

Kelley's Silver-Dollar Bill Antagonized-Ex-Governor Bowman's Defense-Political Land-Grants.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—The business men are generally in favor of the Morrison-Fenton bill, which many of them regard as preferable to the provisions of the Randall-Morrison bill, which passed the House. They would greatly prefer to the pauperizing schemes of those who are dead, or not so to embrace in the provisions of the law of 1846 the words "in amount of participation in the Exhibition. This is one of the Baltimore plans for the disposition of the surplus. The bills have already been introduced on this subject, five of which are by Southern men, one by Rogers, of Alabama, Chairman of the Pension Committee. Another is the Butler scheme to put in but a claim. The bill of Rogers repeals Sec. 4,716, Revised Statutes, which forbids the payment of pensions to Rebels. The bill is so drafted that it would restore Jefferson Davis and others to citizenship. Rogers and Cannon, of Texas, have similar bills.

It is estimated that the $50,000,000 to be paid to the Pension pending bill, if each pensioner gets his full pro rata of the fund, will take $10,000,000 of the $50,000,000 remaining in the Treasury. This leaves $40,000,000 to be distributed according to the ratio of representation by Representatives Reform and others who favor this distribution say that it will have the effect of reducing the surplus in the Treasury to the amount now required by law, and thus avoid the necessity of reducing the revenue by the repeal of the internal taxes. Others favor the distribution of the surplus in the Treasury to the States, according to population, to be used for educational purposes, and others favor the distribution of the surplus to the States, according to population, to be used for educational purposes, and others favor the distribution of the surplus to the States, according to population, to be used for educational purposes.

Ex-Governor Bowman says that he hardly thinks the committee will get to work on the subject of the proposed new tariff bill before the middle of January, and he believes that a month will be necessary to complete the measure. While the bill will have some of the features of the bill of the Forty-fourth Congress, it will be similar in its main respects. Mr. Bowman also says that he does not think any sweeping changes, but in order to take the subject matter of the bill as a whole, and to make such changes as will be necessary to meet the requirements of the present time. The Washington Post, which is supposed to be the Democratic organ, in commenting upon Randall's recent letter, says: "The letter on the subject of a high tariff, as illustrated by the present Secretary of the late industrial and the subject of revenue simply generally, will command universal attention and be accepted as a formulation of the party policy of the present Congress. Mr. Randall is not a candidate for re-election to Congress, and therefore his position is not affected by the action of the Democratic caucus. He is, however, the leader of the House, and his views will be accepted as the basis of the tariff legislation of the present session. The Post says that the Democratic party is pledged to a reduction of the revenue, and that the only way to accomplish this is by the reduction of the tariff. The Post says that the Democratic party is pledged to a reduction of the revenue, and that the only way to accomplish this is by the reduction of the tariff.

THE SILVER DOLLAR.

SOME DOUBT AS TO THE PASSAGE OF A WORK AND BOARD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—Representative Bullock, of Colorado, is of the opinion that Kelley's bill to bring the coinage of the silver dollar will speed the request from the committee. "Judge Kelley," said Bullock, "is a good friend of silver, but I am afraid he is going wrong in this bill. He has an idea that by issuing the coinage of silver we can force Europe to recognize it as a money metal. He does not believe Europe is ready to do so at present. The only way to accomplish the desired result is to coin all the silver bullion that may be presented, and that the mints, and have silver certificates issued for the same. Keep on the coinage, I say, even though we have to hold them up on the Capitol. This instrument exists for the purpose of furnishing the people with a safe currency. When safer currency than we have been issued certificates presented for coin or deposit of silver the mint gets, and those of equal value stock is sold in the open market. If we cease coining and we shall never begin again. We should decide to do away with the silver dollar, or to make it a commodity, and I do not believe that the people of the country will consent to either. Silver must be kept in the currency, and the Kelley bill is the best measure that has been introduced. It will not be passed at this session, but will be considered by the next Congress, and I think will be passed by that body. The Democrats have pledged themselves to the restoration of silver to its old place as money, and I do not believe that the party will go back on its pledges. The Democrats have pledged themselves to the restoration of silver to its old place as money, and I do not believe that the party will go back on its pledges."

PUBLIC LANDS.

SOME MEASURES OF INTEREST TO THE WESTERN STATES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—The Committee on Public Lands will probably act with its work. Chairman Cobb says that it is not yet decided whether to consider the bill proposing a general forfeiture of unearned lands, or to report, as at present, a number of bills to restore the forfeited lands to the different States. It looks the latter course will be pursued, and that the bills, which will restore a part of the SUBSIDY of grant to the public domain, will be speedily reported. Cobb is in favor of restoring to the public domain all of the lands granted to railroads which have not been completed within the time specified in the grants. Cobb says that he has been in favor of this for a long time, and that he has been in favor of this for a long time.

AGRICULTURE.

THE CONTRACT WITH ADOLPH GASSER NOW OUT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—Secretary Lee has taken a matter of serious complaint among farmers and their Representatives in Congress the unusual report of the Department of Agriculture has never been published to the public. The reports have generally been delayed from six months to a year and a half. This year a new system has been adopted. Each month of the report has been put in type as fast as prepared, and when one month's report is ready for the press it is published. A Sunday Afternoon Blaze in the Business Heart of the City.

Oil-Soaked Rags at Shaler & Carpenter's Responsible for a $50,000 Fire.

The National Printing Company and Sea-son Smith & Co. Heavy Sufferers-Blaze at Jamestown, Ind.

A Sunday afternoon blaze originating in Shaler, Carpenter & Company's Lithographing Establishment on Monroe-street does $50,000 damage by fire and water.

Rising in the apartment of No. 116 Monroe-street yesterday afternoon, Frank A. Harrison and Reuben sterling from the third floor of the building No. 118 Monroe-street. As the occupant of Harrison-street, and at 4:37 turned in an alarm of fire from Box 36. The fire department responded promptly, but during the interval between the alarm and their arrival the fire had increased into great volume and had secured formidable proportions. The flames were bursting through the windows, and the southwest portion of the front story was a mass of flames. Crowds of pedestrians thronged upon the sidewalk, but with no idea that fire in a store was brought the flames would gain the mastery. The smoke was seen to issue through the windows and enter the apartments in the front of the building in such volumes that, though fire had been started in the basement of the building, it was impossible for the firemen to operate from the interior, and their efforts were confined to the exterior of the building, and subject to the operations of the water streams. The other occupants of the building, and the occupants of the adjoining buildings, were aroused by the alarm, and hastily gathering up their valuables, fled from the premises. The occupants of the fourth story of the building, which is occupied by the Standard Printing Company, were the last to leave the building, and the flames had gained such headway that they were compelled to abandon their property to the mercy of the fire fiend. The fifth story of the building, which is occupied by the Standard Printing Company, was the last to leave the building, and the flames had gained such headway that they were compelled to abandon their property to the mercy of the fire fiend.

The fire, as soon as it reached the roof of the building, spread to the adjoining buildings, and the flames were soon pouring from the windows of the building. Resignation of the Presidency of Northern Pacific by Henry Villard.

Frederick Billings Will Probably Take Up the Burden Thus Laid Down.

Today's Iowa Pool Meeting Expected to Postpone Its Real Business a Week.

Henry Villard Steps Down as President of the Northern Pacific.

New York, Dec. 31.—[Special.]—It is stated on the best authority that Mr. Henry Villard has resigned the Presidency of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company in a letter handed to the Executive Committee, upon which no official action was taken. A rumpus settled at Mr. Villard's house tonight, to which no publicity as to any conclusion was given out. It is understood that he will retain a position on the Executive Committee, and that Frederick Billings, the Vice-President, will be elected President. The position as under Mr. Villard's management, and the Executive Committee would be reorganized. Mr. Billings was seen at his residence this evening, but declined to say anything on the subject. He said, however, that he had not been elected President, and that he would not accept the position if tendered him. It is thought that the new Executive Committee will consist of Messrs. Billings, Villard, Winslow, Lanier, Kennedy, Bliss, Gould, Sage, Depew, Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, Garrett, Ames, Dillon, Sherman, Hamilton, Hoyt, Ledyard, Hubbard, Hoadley, Hall, Hoyt, Ledyard, Hubbard, Hoadley, Hall, Hoyt, Ledyard, Hubbard, Hoadley, Hall

The annual review of the trade and commerce of Chicago, which has been a feature of THE TRIBUNE for many years, will be published Jan. 1. It has been in course of preparation several weeks. Competition in such a review can valuable only so far that with the most complete and exhaustive data from year to year. It has been the constant aim of THE TRIBUNE not only to preserve the unity of each of the reviews, but to make them be a whole a harmonious and trustworthy record of the commercial growth of the city. This object will be more nearly realized in the forthcoming review than in any of its predecessors.

The issue of Jan. 1 will consist of twenty-two pages. A large number of extra copies will be printed, and they can be obtained in the counting-room in wrappers ready for mailing the day of publication.

A limited number of advertisements will be received, and applications for portions should be made at once as early as possible.

THE report of the National Department of Agriculture will be published about the 15th of February. Among other important information it will contain the statistics of the cereal products of the principal countries of Europe. The report will be specially valuable to grain-dealers and agriculturists generally.

TREASURER GILBERT reports having spoken the Sunday Week, four cannon (with the bill of December. The gold dust was packed, and the box preceding under seal. The Clerk mentioned that the Latin was coming currently, and that the passengers were safe, and then proceeded on her way, having declined to land on account of the stress of weather, though offering to take her passengers and mail.

DURING the last year 500 new business houses have been established at Minneapolis, Minn. The population of that city is now claimed to be 140,000, an increase of 15,000 during the year.

DURING the voyage of the Swedish brig Bold from Dublin, England, to Brisbane, Queensland, the crew mutinied. The Captain was wounded and the mate killed. The Captain killed two of the mutineers and put the others in irons.

THE Prince Bonaparte at Brooklyn has determined to establish a school for the purpose of instructing Zulumen who take Zulu-ghast in the quickest method by which "the English may be driven out of Ireland." The instruction will be given in Columbia Hall, Brooklyn.

THE steamer Gallia from Hull entered the river of the brig Stanley, from Newfoundland for Oporto, Christmas-Day off the American coast. At the time of the rescue the Stanley was about to go to pieces. She had been drifting for three days. All the officers and crew were saved.

THE Hon. George W. McCrary, Judge of the Eighth United States Judicial Circuit, which embraces Colorado, Nebraska, Minnesota, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, and Arkansas, has resigned that position. His resignation will take effect March 1, when he will accept the position of General Attorney of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company.

MR. MORRISON says that he will be present to introduce his tariff bill in the House of Representatives about the 15th of January. Mr. Morrison says he has received letters from prominent businessmen of the East saying that they are not alarmed at the prospects of a tariff revision, but they would like to have the revision made at once. Mr. Morrison, perhaps, may try to accommodate them.

SOUTHERN Sentiment-Congressmen have prepared bills which they will introduce into the House of Representatives, the object of which is to restore to persons who have been in any way connected with any war in which the United States was concerned, and, of course, on the side of the United States. The passage of the bills would cost the United States taxpayers in the aggregate $100,000,000.

EX-CONGRESSMAN DARLINGTON, of the House of Representatives, says that the charges of mismanagement made against him are for the most part "gentlemen, unfounded, and deliberate lies." He admits that his wife, his son, his brother-in-law, and his former partner were subscribers of his, but he denies that they endorsed his notes for the minor they received, and that his administration was creditable and satisfactory.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Dullness is to be expected the last week of December, and if more animation were the only unfavorable sign of the times there would be no occasion for anxiety. But we have a large number of traders in all lines of goods waiting, not for a change in the existing, but for customers; an organization of labor in manufacturers' hands; collections of wages poured at the mills; the operations of transactions conducted on a small scale; a limited foreign demand and low prices for our agricultural products; low continuations among the railroads, the outcome of which is very problematical, with the threat of corporate management that has existed so long at least sustained; large amounts of capital in the Eastern centers lying idle; and a failure record for the closing week of the year which includes one reaching with liabilities of $1,000,000. These conditions of course mean distress to thousands of laborers with much suffering, present and prospective. It is not a pleasant picture to look upon, but we can see it upon the facts. It does not foretell a panic, and probably not a prolonged period of depression; indeed, in one aspect it is hopeful, for it is a process of cure.

The holiday trade has been disappointing. An appearance of life was given to the shops for a short time, but the great bulk of the purchases were cheap knick-knacks, and on the most single article the profits were small. This was the one gold-brick which dealers looked with hope, for in the ordinary consumptive demand there was no reason to expect a change. Under the great concern of supplying the people with the necessaries of life, the promotion of the world gives us to consider opportunity to see that the machinery for this purpose is much beyond our needs. The stocks of textiles in the hands of dealers are not large, but the mills have piles of goods that nobody wants, and new manufactories have sprung into existence rapidly in the last few years. And this machinery has been improved to such an extent that the methods of five years ago were antiquated. The explosion that ran there continued on quite possibly are ready for work just as fast as coal is dug to carry the profits they expected. The latest sale of the Lake Shore Railroad, which was the first to be sold, to be, to be, to be
